DESIGN, LIGHT AND SPACE - 40 ACRES

Spectacular design around space and light makes this outstanding Fasham Johnson home a statement in beautiful rural living. Meander between native stands of timber via asphalt driveway. Oversized Oregon entry hides brick and timber features and solid timber floors throughout. Central open plan living allows guests access to full length verandah. Recumbent roof slopes gently towards windows that bias towards panoramic views of the Macedon Ranges. In fact slant wise, this home dominates a peninsula

- the landscape melting gently to its environment as every living area recaptures that same landscape like a portrait through a window pane. Exemplary outdoor entertaining draws all eyes northward dreamily, champagne in hand, BBQ grilling. Meanwhile, indoors the giant hostess kitchen commands the domain. The master suite accesses directly to a delightful garden and the rumpus/billiard room is huge and light-filled. The estate is well fenced, with cattle yards, ample shedding and teenagers pad or guest room. Mum, for entertaining, dad for his toys and the kids . . . skies are the limit - motorcross, pony club and wide open
