'Organic Living with all the Luxuries'

Indulge in true organic and holistic living, on Melbourne's doorstep. This outstanding property is indeed a rare gem! Just over four acres of fertile organic soil allows the current owners a holistic lifestyle most can only dream of. This property boasts well established gardens complete with over 150 mature trees producing delicious fruits, nuts, and vegetables of all kinds. There is also a small vineyard for the wine maker in you. The abundant quantity of produce can be sold at the local farmers markets, a fun way to both immerse yourself in the local community and easily sustain your lifestyle. You won't have to worry about water, with an endless supply of pure spring water feeding the dam and large concrete tanks collecting rain water for household purposes. A massive solar system keeps those electricity bills at bay and rarely do they experience anything but credit back into the grid. You will be absolutely delighted with this large, well maintained, three bedroom home which also offers some unique features reflecting a bygone era ?. just lovely! There is so much more to this outstanding property and its own highly individual characteristics, that it can't all be listed here. So if you want to experience organic living with all the lux
